Overview

Camp Code: BBC241216WO

Bharatpur Bird Sanctuary, now known as the Keoladeo Ghana National Park is a famous avifauna sanctuary that sees thousands of rare and highly endangered birds during the winter season. Over 300 species of birds are known to have made the National Park their home. It is a World Heritage Site. The park is a freshwater swamp and is flooded during the monsoon. The park's location in the Gangetic Plain makes it an unrivalled breeding site for herons, storks and cormorants, and an important wintering ground for large numbers of migrant ducks. The most common waterfowl are Gadwall, Shoveler, Common Teal, Cotton Teal, Tufted Duck, Comb Duck, Little Cormorant, Great Cormorant, Indian shag, Ruff, Painted stork, White spoonbill, Asian open-billed stork, Oriental ibis, Darter, Common sandpiper, Wood sandpiper and Green sandpiper. And the majestic Sarus crane, with its spectacular courtship dance, is also seen here.

Highlights of the tour :

- Bharatpur - A UNESCO World Heritage Site.
- One of the world's finest heronries; a unique ecosystem.
- Sarus Cranes, Pelicans, colonies of Storks, Herons.
- More than 150 species of migratory birds.
